

Pyongyang, October 4 -- The spokesman for the Policy Department of the National Defence Commission (NDC) of the DPRK released the following statement Friday:

It is the unquenchable desire of the nation and the irresistible trend of the times to achieve the reunification, peace and prosperity of the country as early as possible.

The bold measures taken by the army and people of the DPRK with patience and magnanimity to put the operations in the Kaesong Industrial Zone back on their normal track, realize the reunions of separated families and their relatives and resume the tour of Mt. Kumgang were the manifestation of their patriotic efforts to subordinate everything to meeting desire of the nation and the requirements of the times.

It was thanks to these efforts that the north-south relations that were inching close to a catastrophe due to traitor Lee Myung Bak were brought under control and the tense situation that reached the extremes began to ease.

Shortly ago, a new phase for dialogue and cooperation was provided amid deep concern and expectation of the public at home and abroad, bringing hope to all the Koreans.

But Park Geun Hye and the present ruling quarters of south Korea cried out for "confrontation accompanied with dialogue", not doing away with their dirty intention prompted by mistrust and hostility, thereby chilling the hard-won atmosphere of reconciliation and cooperation through bad words and acts and sinister steps.

The Park Geun Hye group is trying to make the public convince that the measures taken by the DPRK on its own initiative to improve the north-south ties were taken "under the control" of a big country. The group said that the measures were an "unavoidable option to open back financial source and solve dire economic situation" and described them as "emergency measures under the situation in which the north was finding it hard to maintain its political system".

When the Kaesong Industrial Zone was put back on normal operations and a series of relevant agreements were reached, the group described them as results of the so-called "theory of principle" maintained by it.

The army and people of the DPRK already warned the puppet south Korean authorities several times that they should stop anachronistic remarks against fellow countrymen and behave to give help to peace and reunification of the country if they do not want to see the north-south ties deteriorating as during the past five years.

But Park Geun Hye malignantly slandered the dignity and social system in the DPRK, now with her face raised, though she did it under the veil till some time ago. She openly slandered the DPRK soon after she took power.

So far, Park and her group often talked rubbish as if they were worried about the life and future of the north. They used to jabber that "the north should be led to abandon the line on simultaneously pushing forward economic construction and the building of nuclear force and properly opt the road of change", "the north should be made to understand that the former Soviet Union collapsed not because it did not possess nukes" and "strong deterrence should be built against the north to pressure it to dismantle nuclear weapons and missiles".

Recently the group held an event to mark "Day of ROK Army" miming the great political festival for celebrating the victory in the Fatherland Liberation War that was held in the DPRK amid admiration of the world. The group is blustering that it will use the "south Korea-U.S. combined operational system", "Kill Chain preemptive strike system" and the "south Korean-type missile defense system", threadbare ones, to make the north admit the uselessness of nuclear weapons and missiles by itself.

Park and her group, steeped in repugnance against the DPRK to the marrow of their bones, made coarse outpourings, daring take issue with the autographic letters sent to people reflecting loving care and trust.

The group made up lies, not content with slandering the single-mined unity characterized by pure kindred feelings between parents and children. The group is, indeed, made up of ignorant hooligans hell-bent on hurting the dignity of the supreme leadership of the DPRK and on eclipsing the bright sunlight.

Park's disgusting acts leave even young pupils of primary schools of the DPRK skeptical about her ability as president as they say "it seems there is no appropriate person in south Korea. Is it possible for a person making bad words to become president?" Servicepersons of the DPRK ridicule that "does Park, who is unaware of the basics of the military affairs, know the meaning of the DPRK's nukes that have become smaller, lighter and diversified."

The army and people of the DPRK are watching with dubious eyes how Park is maintaining her post in Chongwadae as she is rejected as a "stubborn woman" shunning the mindset of the people, a narrow-minded "headstrong lady" going against the national concord and a "cold-blooded being" defying the good faith of compatriots.

The Policy Department of the DPRK NDC sternly warns Park and her group as follows now that the hard-won atmosphere of dialogue and peace is turning into that of confrontation and tension on the Korean Peninsula:

Park should open her mouth to suit her capacity, clearly judging how the things go about in the world if she truly ranks among politicians.

A saying goes that all misfortunes come from mouth and that all illnesses also go through the mouth.

She should refrain from groundlessly insisting on the false "principle" and pressing her unilateral and self-justified opinion as an "international standard". She should be mindful that thoughtless vitriolic languages may cause the shower of fire by the army and people of the DPRK. It is said that tongue wagged thoughtlessly will become a knife cutting one's own head. A politician who hails from this land should make words helpful for the country's reunification, peace and prosperity. She should bear in her mind that in case she does not do so, she can not evade the same miserable ends as the "yusin" dictator and other puppet presidents met.

Park and her group should face up to the desire of the nation and the trend of the times and behave with discretion.

What the nation wants is reconciliation and cooperation and the times call for peace and reunification.

If she wants to live as a genuine human being who puts the nation above all and attaches importance to it, she should stop treacherous act of antagonizing the fellow countrymen and kissing the aggressors in alignment with outsiders.

Her reckless act of betraying the nation and going against the times will push her deep into treachery which is bound to be punished by history. She should not forget that it is an unpardonable act of treachery to introduce carrier flotilla with nuclear weapons on board and the aggressors' nuclear strike means into south Korea to threaten the fellow countrymen and to instigate human scum to scatter leaflets and hold other anti-DPRK psychological warfare almost every day.

Park and her group should not try to lead the DPRK to "change" and force it to dismantle nuclear weapons.

The army and people of the DPRK will invariably advance forward its own way, under the line on simultaneously pushing forward the building of nuclear force and economic construction to build a prosperous country to be envied by the world, to attain the goals set by them.

What needs change is Park's politics which are veering to "yusin" and dictatorship after derailing from the road of democracy.

The nuclear weapons possessed by the army and people of the DPRK are a powerful deterrence to deter the nuclear war disaster to be inflicted by the U.S., and a treasured sword common to the nation to defend the destiny of the country and its people.

The DPRK's nuclear weapons serve as the most appropriate means for peace.

They will play the role of completely removing the sustainable nuclear threats from the U.S. and linking the denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula with that of the world.

There will be no bigger fool and poorer imbecile than the one who schemes to side with nuclear-wielding robber and urge one's own kinsmen to lower a knife first.

If Park and her group conspire with outsiders under the pretext of leading the DPRK to "change" and go reckless to bring down the social system in the DPRK and force it to dismantle nuclear weapons, it will be little short of digging their own graves.

Those who went against the desire of the nation and the trend of the times all met miserable ends.

Park and her group should not run reckless, clearly facing up to the trend of the times.
